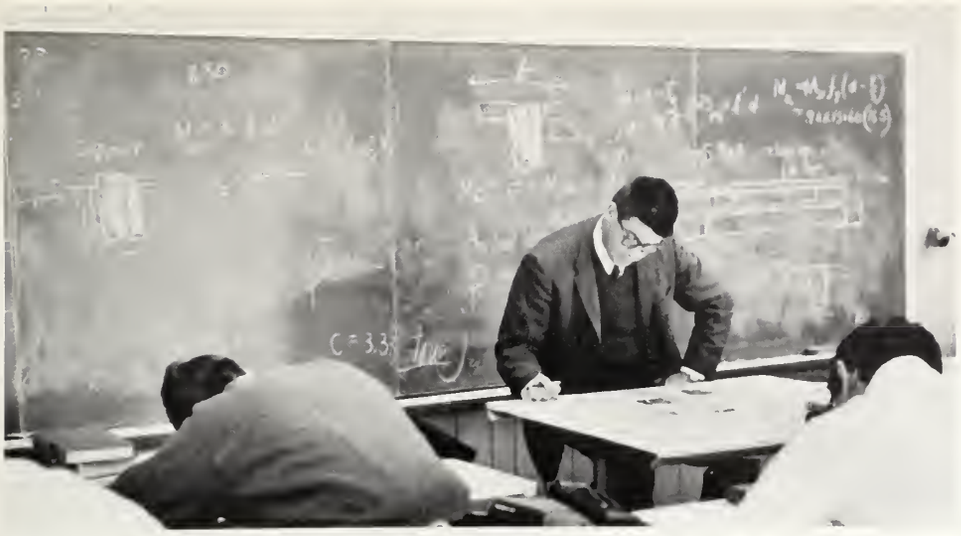
CAMPUS LIFE

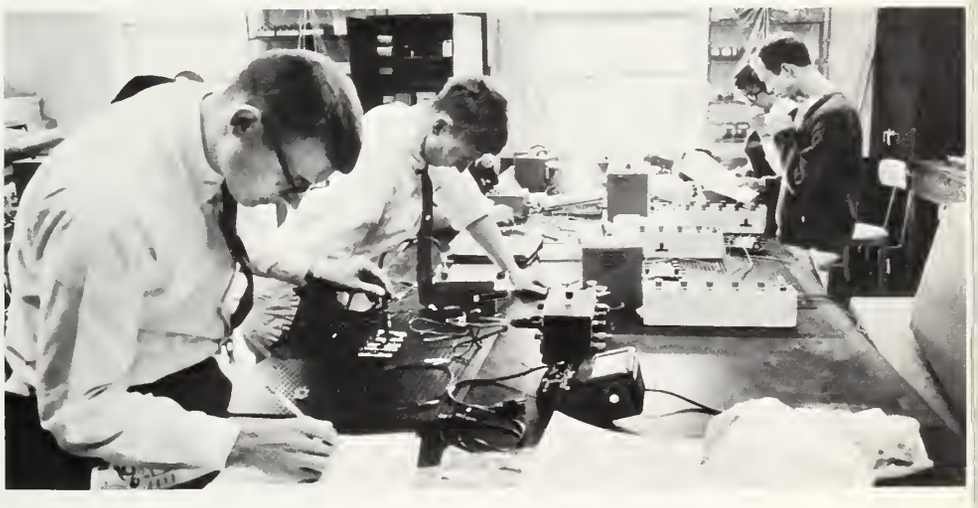
"The days that make us happy . . .

make us wise."
—John Masefield

"The Brain—is wider than the Sky—
For—put them side by side—
The one the other will contain
With ease—and You—beside—"

—Emily Dickinson





"You sit with a group of people, and there is a conversation going on, words and sentences being made.

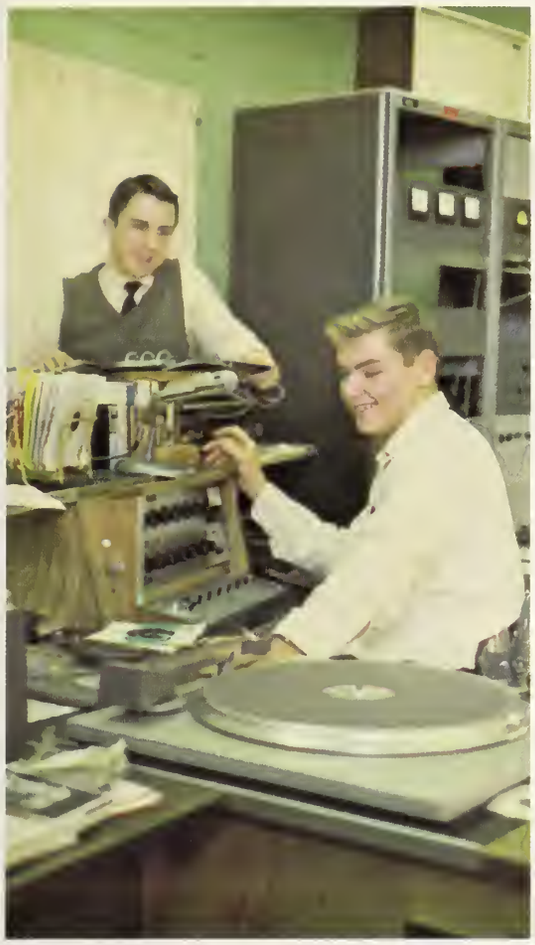
At the same time there is an unspoken conversation."

"We have a great deal more kindness . . .

. . . than is ever spoken."
—Ralph Waldo Emerson

"EDUCATION: That which discloses to the wise and disguises from the foolish their lack of understanding."

—Ambrose Bierce



ME

JEOPARDY!

"I dine, I play a game . . .

I converse and am merry with my friends . . .

MEN

I find myself . . . determined . . .

to live and talk and act . . .

like other people . . .

in the common affairs of life."
—David Hume

"Every time we renew acquaintance with a person with whom our relationship has changed, it is as if two periods of our life were confronting each other."

Marcel Proust

"Games are a sort of artificial paradise . . . by which we interpret and complete the meaning of our daily lives."

Marshall McLuhan

"She put me in them new clothes again, and I couldn't do nothing but sweat and sweat and feel all cramped up."

Huckleberry Finn

IN MEMORIAM

Death, because it deprives us of ourselves, renders us all anonymous in a sense . . .

As a student here, Denise Caron was never very well-known. She was soft-spoken, reserved, quiet; herself.

Her absence made many of us aware of what had been in life, a fleeting presence. A certain manner, a way of smiling took the place, for those who had not known her, of what had been the person. Ironically, her death made her alive to those people whom she never knew.

The only real enemy of death, of anonymity, is memory. Most of us can recall a person who should have been able to share in our present happiness. Most of us can remember what was; some of us can imagine what might have been . . .

A moderator is chosen so that he may guide and assist those to whom he has been assigned. Father Paul T. Kamide is the person who has been guiding and assisting the class of '68 in his role as moderator for the past four years.

Unfortunately Father Kamide presents us with special problems when we attempt to define his position. Not content with merely fulfilling his official duties to the class and assisting in the functions which it must sponsor, Father Kamide has made himself responsible for the personal welfare of all his charges. Still more unforgivable he has, true to form, avoided partisanship and become actively involved and interested in the problems of any student (regardless of the class affiliation) with whom he has come into contact.

Certainly there must be some rule against such behavior, but until someone discovers it we shall just have to put up with more of the same devotedness, generosity and kindness that Father Kamide shamelessly indulges in whenever he pleases. What makes this type of behavior particularly exasperating is that when we wish to acknowledge all the many kindnesses Father Kamide has done on behalf of the class of 68, we find ourselves having to share our gratitude with every other student in the school who has made his acquaintance.

What are we to do when, wishing to compose an article about our moderator and all that he has done for us, we find ourselves confronted with a person who recklessly displays love and concern wherever he goes, and continues on his way oblivious to our understandably selfish desire to adopt him solely for ourselves?

To the students of Merrimack College:

This year's Merrimackan has been a challenging task for the staff, the publisher and others involved with its production.

We have had many difficulties and disappointments in procuring the time and materials necessary for creating a truly artistic memento of the 1967-1968 academic year, but we feel that this yearbook will recreate many warm and humorous memories in the years to come. We hope that the words and pictures presented here will allow remembrances even though you, in particular, are not in word or picture.

I would like to especially thank Steve McKittrick, who gave me the incentive to continue working when the pressures and problems seemed insurmountable. My gratitude is also extended to Father McGettigan for his understanding and cooperation.

My warmest feelings go to the entire Merrimackan staff who, at times, were under varied pressures, but were there to do the work. I would also like to thank Mr. Joseph Donovan for his greatly needed assistance.

My appreciation goes to Merrimack College for allowing me to be Editor-in-Chief of the 1968 Merrimackan. It has been a productive and educational experience. I hope that each and everyone of you, the students, enjoy your yearbook.

Respectfully,
Jeffrey De Marie
Editor-in-Chief
